

Spheriad, Inc. has created this privacy statement to demonstrate its commitment to protecting your privacy while online. We recommend that you to read this privacy statement, which explains the data collection, storage and usage practices of Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites. This privacy statement governs all of the following Spheriad, Inc. supported Web sites: www.spheriad.com

Non-Personal Information That May Be Collected On The Web

The following information may be collected and stored automatically from all visitors accessing Spheriad, Inc. supported Web sites:

- The internet domain and internet protocol address from which our site is accessed
- The type of browser and operating system used to access our site
- The date and time our site is accessed.
- The web pages visited by our visitors; and
- If visitors linked to Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites from a referring web site, the address of that web site.

This information is gathered to create summary statistics which may be used to track web site traffic patterns, assess what information is of most interest to online visitors, determine web site design specifications and identify system performance or problem areas. This information is not reported or used in any manner that would reveal personal information of online visitors.

Personal Information that May Be Collected On The Web

You are welcome to visit Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites and access the public information contained there-in without revealing any personal information. Occasionally, however, you may request additional information about organizations or programs mentioned on Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites, subscribe to e-mail lists sponsored by Spheriad, Inc., make a contribution or send us questions or comments electronically that contain personal information about yourself. The personally identifiable information that may be collected by Spheriad, Inc. web sites, in these circumstances, is as follows: names, postal and e-mail addresses, telephone/facsimile numbers and credit/billing information. Spheriad, Inc. web sites may also collect business information from organizations that apply for membership or program participation with Spheriad, Inc., some of which could constitute personal information.

How Personal Information May Be Used

Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites may use personal information to reply to inquiries and process membership and program participation requests. Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites may also collect and store personal information received from online visitors in a proprietary database, on mailing lists, or both. As a database or mailing list participant, visitors may periodically receive organization and program-related information, industry bulletins or other promotional materials. Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites may also share personal information of online visitors with affiliated and nonaffiliated organizations. If you subscribe to certain services or send questions or comments electronically that contain personal information, Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites may redirect your message to affiliates who can better process your request or respond to your questions. Additionally, Spheriad, Inc. web sites may share personal, non-credit card account information with suppliers and other nonaffiliated organizations and with whom Spheriad, Inc. web sites have confidentiality agreements. These nonaffiliated organizations may use this information to send you notices about their products or services. Finally, Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites may release personal information of online visitors if required by law, or to establish or exercise Spheriad, Inc.'s legal rights or defend against legal claims.

Opt-in/Opt-Out

All Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites provide visitors with the opportunity to opt-in and opt-out of receiving periodic communications. If you no longer want to receive e-mails or promotional information from Spheriad, Inc. web sites or do not want to have your personal information disclosed to nonaffiliated organizations, you can contact webmaster@spheriad.com, at any time.

Tracking and Use of Cookies

Currently, Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites do not employ the use of "cookies" to track, collect or distribute personal information of our visitors. However, in the future Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites may record and generate certain kinds of non-personal site usage data, such as the number of web hits and visits of our visitors. This information will be used for internal purposes only by technical support staff to enhance our visitors' experiences and make Spheriad, Inc. supported web sites more responsive to users' needs.

Updating and Reviewing Your Information

To update or review the customer information we have for you in our records, please contact us as provided below. To protect your privacy, we may ask you to validate your identity before you update or review your information.

Contact Us

If you have any comments or questions about this privacy statement, the practices of the Spheriad, Inc., or your experiences with any Spheriad, Inc. supported web site, please contact:

Spheriad, Inc.
26438 Main St.
Dow, IL 62022
618-466-2478
webmaster@spheriad.com

Changes In This Privacy Statement

Spheriad, Inc. and its supported web sites reserve the right to change this privacy statement at any time. Any changes to this privacy statement will be posted on this page. We encourage you to visit this page frequently to stay informed.